2.

FELLOWSHIP:

Argonne National Laboratory

 Guest Graduate Appointments

 Laboratory-Graduate Research Appointments

TARGETED FIELDS:

Physical and life sciences, mathematics, computer science, and engineering as well as in a variety of applied areas relating to conservation, environment, fission and fusion energy, and other energy technologies.

ELIGIBILITY:

To be eligible for a Lab-Grad appointment, a student must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident alien. Students must also be qualified U.S. university graduate students who wish to carry out their thesis research at Argonne National Laboratory.

Argonne National Laboratory encourages applications for Laboratory-Graduate appointments from all qualified persons, especially women and members of underrepresented minority groups.

STIPEND:

Support of a Lab-Grad appointee consists of a stipend, tuition payment up to $5,000 per year, and certain travel expenses. In addition, the student's faculty sponsor may receive payment for limited travel expenses. In cases where the student's annual tuition costs exceeds $5,000 per year, the university is expected to provide additional financial assistance to the student as required.

DEADLINE DATE:

Year Round - An application for a Lab-Grad appointment may be submitted at any time during the year and an appointment may commence at any time.

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

Laboratory-Graduate Research (Lab-Grad) appointments are available for qualified U.S. university graduate students who wish to carry out their thesis research at Argonne National Laboratory under co-sponsorship of an Argonne staff member and a faculty member. The university sets the academic standards and awards the degree. In practice, participation by the faculty member varies from full partnership in the research to general supervision of the student's thesis work. The Argonne staff sponsor undertakes to keep the faculty sponsor informed about the student's progress, and he/she attends the thesis defense.

Mutual interest in an area of research by the student and the Argonne staff sponsor is essential for the successful arrangement of a Lab-Grad appointment. To help the parties gauge their mutual interest, a limited number of temporary appointments are available for qualified graduate students so that they may work with an Argonne staff member and become familiar with his/her research program. These temporary appointments have a tenure of three months and support consists of a per diem payment to help defray the cost of living away from home, plus travel expenses.

Guest Graduate Appointments: Guest graduate appointments are available for qualified graduate students who show that access to Argonne National Laboratory will be beneficial to their thesis research and to Argonne programs. A Guest Graduate is provided a guest pass, usually for one year, and the student may visit Argonne whenever appropriate. No stipend will be received from the Laboratory.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

To apply for the Laboratory Graduate Program, print the application and reference forms from: <http://www.dep.anl.gov/highered/labgrad.htm>

DEADLINE DATE:

Open Deadline - Applications may be submitted throughout the year, and appointments may begin at any time.

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

The ORNL Postdoctoral Research Associates Program is a highly selective program and offers challenging opportunities to recent recipients of doctoral degrees to conduct research in areas that support ORNL missions in the basic and applied sciences, energy, and environment. Appointments are available in all current research and development programs at the laboratory.

The program's goals are to:

- * Advance scientific and technical training in areas of critical national need
- * Provide research opportunities for outstanding scientists
- * Promote the influx of new ideas and skills into the laboratory
- * Enhance interactions with the wider academic and research communities

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

Please see How to Apply for complete instructions on downloading and properly submitting an application at: <http://www.ornl.gov/orise/edu/ornl/gi-pdRA.htm>

FELLOWSHIP:

ORISE, Student Research Participation at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

TARGETED FIELDS:

Communications, economics, environmental health, epidemiology, health sciences, life sciences, occupational safety and health, premedical sciences, physical sciences, and related scientific disciplines.

ELIGIBILITY:

1. Applicants must be students in good standing at accredited U.S. colleges or universities.
2. Overall minimum GPA requirement is typically 2.50 (based on A=4.0)
3. Permanent residents are not accepted at some facilities. An applicant who is a permanent resident should check on citizenship requirements at the choice of facility before applying.

STIPEND:

Full-time or part-time appointments, lasting from one month to one year are offered. Stipend based on research area(s) and academic classification.

DEADLINE DATE:

Open Deadline - applications accepted on year-round basis except for the Division of Prevention Research and Analytic Methods (contact phone number below for that deadline).

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

The Student Research Participation at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention offers opportunities to participate in research on infectious diseases, environmental health, epidemiology, or occupational safety and health.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

A complete application consists of:

* Application Form

Part I: Applicant Information Form (2 pages)

Part II: Courses and Grades Pertaining to Your Major

Part III: Description of Research Interests and Career Plans

* Two references - at least one academic is required.

* Transcripts from all colleges and universities attended.

FELLOWSHIP:

California State University (CSU), Forgivable Loan/Doctoral Incentive Program

TARGETED FIELDS:

All fields.

ELIGIBILITY:

The program is open to applicants who will be new or continuing full-time students in doctoral programs at accredited universities in the United States during the 2002-2003 academic year. Applicants are not required to have attended the CSU. Employment in the California State University is also not required.

STIPEND:

The program provides:

- * Loan of up to $10,000 per year up to a total of $30,000 within 5 years.
- * Loan forgiveness: twenty percent of the loan is forgiven for each year of full-time postdoctoral teaching at a CSU campus.

DEADLINE DATE:

The closing date for submitting applications varies among the CSU campuses but typically falls in late February. Check with the Forgivable Loan Program campus coordinator.

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

The Forgivable Loan Program provides financial assistance to graduate students. The purpose of the program is to increase the pool of individuals with the qualifications, motivation, and skills to teach the diverse student body in the California State University by providing financial assistance to doctoral students who show promise of becoming strong candidates for CSU instructional faculty positions. It is a competitive program directed by the California State University but open to doctoral students across the country. The CSU offers loans and faculty sponsorship to full-time students pursuing doctoral degrees who are interested in teaching at a CSU campus. The CSU does not guarantee a faculty position to any participant in the Forgivable Loan Program. However, it is expected that upon completion of their doctoral studies, participants will be qualified to compete for CSU faculty positions. Key to the success of the Forgivable Loan Program is the faculty sponsor, a full-time tenured/tenure-track CSU faculty member. Each member must have a CSU faculty sponsor. The sponsor provides consultation and assistance to the candidate to enhance his/her academic experience and relationship to the CSU. It is recommended that the faculty sponsor and student be in the same discipline, though it is not required.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

For complete guideline and application information please pick up an application and program announcement from 1252 Murphy Hall or contact the program at the address below.

FELLOWSHIP:

Environmental Careers Organization, Paid Internships

TARGETED FIELDS:

Environmental careers and education.

ELIGIBILITY:

Many of the internship sponsors place eligibility requirements on the types of applicants they will consider. Please check with each internship for individual requirements. An applicant is generally a:

- * College graduate (AA, AS, BA, BS, MA, MS, Professional Degrees, and Ph.D.);
- * Recent graduate of a special certificate program;
- * Junior or senior undergraduate; or Current graduate student.

STIPEND:

The average stipend is between $10 and $12 per hour, typically stipends range from $7.50 to $15.00 per hour. Stipend will depend on the nature of the internship, the type of organization sponsoring it, your level of matriculation, your expertise and level of skill, and the region in which you are placed. Internships range from 3 months to 2 years.

DEADLINE DATE:

Open Deadline - internships are offered throughout the year, but students are encouraged to apply as soon as possible.

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

ECO places over 600 people each year through their four regional offices. During the past two years their interns have been on assignments in over 35 states. ECO does not typically place people internationally.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

For complete guideline and application information please contact each individual internship. Students may visit <http://www.eco.org> for a list of available internships.

FELLOWSHIP:

Fermilab Accelerator Physics Graduate Research Appointments

TARGETED FIELDS:

Physics

ELIGIBILITY:

Please see Program Summary below.

STIPEND:

Please see Program Summary below.

DEADLINE DATE:

Open Deadline - applications are accepted on a year-round basis.

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

University students who have passed all their graduate physics qualifying exams and are ready to choose a thesis topic are eligible to join this program. They arrange for a sponsor in their Physics Department, often a member of the high energy physics group, who is Fermilab's contact with the university while the student is carrying out thesis research at Fermilab. A Fermilab staff member, approved by both the committee and the university, is the student's supervisor during the thesis work here. Thesis problems can be in either theoretical or experimental accelerator work.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

Interested applicants should contact the Assistant Director below for application guidelines.

FELLOWSHIP:

John E. Fogarty; Alexander von Humboldt Foundation Research Fellowships

TARGETED FIELDS:

Any academic field with an interest to conduct research in Germany.

ELIGIBILITY:

- * U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- * Doctoral degree or its equivalent
- * Under 40 years old
- * Superior academic achievement
- * Peer-reviewed publications
- * Specific research plans
- * Good command of the German language (humanities and social science scholars) or at least good command of English (physical and life scientists and engineers)

STIPEND:

Fellowship stipends range from EUR 2,100 ($1,855) to EUR 3,000 ($2,650) a month, depending upon the applicant's level of postdoctoral experience (tax free in Germany). Additional support is available for accompanying married partner, travel expenses, and German language courses. Group health insurance is available. Fellowships are awarded for 6 to 12 months.

DEADLINE DATE:

Open Deadline - Applications may be submitted at any time. Foundation staff normally requires about five months to process applications, which are then reviewed for scientific merit by the selection committee of the AvH Foundation, which meets three times a year, usually in March, June/July, and November.

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

The Alexander von Humboldt Foundation (AvH) enables highly qualified foreign scholars holding doctorates to carry out research projects of their own choice in Germany (age limit: 40 years). Applications may be submitted for long-term research stays of between 6 and 12 months. Short-term study tours, participation in conferences or educational visits cannot be funded. Decisions are based primarily on the quality and feasibility of research projects proposed by candidates as well as their international publications. Research projects and German hosts are selected by applicants themselves. Details of research projects and schedules must be agreed between applicants and proposed hosts prior to submission of applications.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

Application forms may be downloaded and printed from: <http://www.avh.de> or <http://www.humboldtoundation.de>

- * Application form
- * 4 letters for reference

NATIONAL CENTER FOR ATMOSPHERIC RESEARCH, HIGH ALTITUDE OBSERVATORY (HAO) NEWKIRK GRADUATE RESEARCH ASSISTANT-SHIP PROGRAM

Targeted Fields

Physical Sciences. Including solar physics, solar-terrestrial physics, and related astrophysics.

Open To

Students Working on Doctoral Dissertation.

Citizenship

No citizenship requirements.

Eligibility Requirements

Must be enrolled full-time in a university graduate program having common interest with HAO research goals and must be working on a Ph.D. dissertation in cooperation with an HAO staff member.

Stipend

The annual stipend for those who have passed the comprehensive exam is $19,615 and is $18,247 for those who have not.

Deadline

Open Deadline

Program Description

This program allows doctoral students to conduct research with one of the scientists at HAO on a mutually agreeable theoretical or experimental project. If the student is officially a Ph.D. candidate, the chosen project will constitute the doctoral dissertation.
